Ficha de unidade curricular

Curso de Mestrado em Direito e Ciência Jurídica

Unidade curricular

Ciência Política, turma B

Docente responsável e respetiva carga letiva na unidade curricular

Vitalino Canas, 2 horas por semana

Outros docentes e respetivas cargas letivas na unidade curricular

Não aplicável

Objetivos de aprendizagem (conhecimentos, aptidões e competências a desenvolver pelos estudantes)

Populismo e partidos e movimentos populistas sempre existiram e foram objeto de estudo científico e de debate crítico. Hoje são (de novo) um espetro para a democracia e, na Europa, uma ameaça para o projeto europeu. Os objetivos centrais são compreender por que razão o populismo tem adquirido fulgor na última década ou mais além, na Europa e noutras geografias, e qual o impacto desse fenómeno nos sistemas políticos e, especificamente, nos sistemas de partidos.

Conteúdos programáticos

1. Definição de populismo e de partidos e movimentos populistas
2. Manifestações históricas da ação de partidos e movimentos populistas (por que razão o populismo é hoje mais relevante do que noutras épocas?)
3. Tendências do populismo na atualidade
4. Caracterização de alguns partidos e movimentos populistas na Alemanha, Áustria, Eslováquia, Espanha, Finlândia, França, Grécia, Holanda, Hungria, Itália, Polónia, Reino Unido, Suécia
5. O impacto do populismo e dos partidos e movimentos populistas nos sistemas partidários

Demonstração da coerência dos conteúdos programáticos com os objetivos da unidade curricular

Os conteúdos programáticos pretendem assegurar a conciliação de momentos de recolha de dados e de informação sobre os temas relevantes e momentos de generalização e teorização.

Metodologias de ensino (avaliação incluída)

Funciona-se em regime de seminário, com apresentação de temas por parte do docente e apresentação de trabalhos nas aulas pelos mestrandos, com discussão subsequente.

A avaliação baseia-se na participação nas aulas (25%), na apresentação de trabalho (25%) e num relatório escrito (50%).

Demonstração da coerência das metodologias de ensino com os objetivos de aprendizagem da unidade curricular

Concilia-se a abordagem teórica e prática das matérias.

Curricular unit sheet

Curricular unit

Political Science, class B

Responsible Academic staff and respective workload in the curricular unit (enter full name)

Vitalino Canas, 2 hours per week

Other academic staff and respective workloads in the curricular unit

Not applicable

Learning outcomes of the curricular unit

Populism and populist parties and movements existed for ages and were subject of both scientific research and critical debate. Today they are again a spectre for democracy and, in Europe, a threat to the European project. The learning outcomes of the curricular unit are the understanding of the reason for the renewed glare of populism over the last decade and further back, in Europe and other geographies and what is the impact of that event on the political systems and, more specifically, on the party systems.

Syllabus

1. Definition of populism and populist parties and movements
2. Historical manifestations of the action of populist parties and movements (why populism is today more relevant than before?)
3. Trends of current populist parties and movements
4. Analyses of some populist parties and movements in Germany, Austria, Slovak Republic, Spain, Finland, France, Greece, The Netherlands, Hungary, Italy, Poland, United Kingdom, Sweden
5. The impact of populism and populist parties and movements on the party systems

Demonstration of the syllabus coherence with the curricular unit's objectives.

Teaching methodologies (including evaluation)

Demonstration of the coherence between the teaching methodologies and the learning outcomes
