

Georges Martyn studied Law (1984-89) and Medieval Studies (1989-91) in Leuven (Belgium) and obtained a PhD degree in Law at the Catholic University of Leuven in 1996, with a dissertation on private law legislation in the early-modern Netherlands. He has been advocaat (barrister/lawyer) between 1992 and 2008 at the bar of Kortrijk, is now honorary member of the Ghent bar, and is a substitute justice of the peace in Kortrijk since 1999. He is full professor at the Faculty of Law and Criminology of Ghent University, teaching 'History of Public Law', 'General Introduction to Belgian Law' and 'Law & the Humanities'. His publications deal with the history of private and criminal law and legal institutions in the Netherlands in the Early Modern Era, the reception of Roman law, the legal professions, the evolution of the sources of the law in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and legal iconography and iconology. He is a member of the Belgian Royal Commission for the Edition of the Old Law, member of the board of editors of the Belgian-Dutch legal history review Pro Memorie and of Human(ities) & Rights Global Network Journal, and co-editor of the series Studies in the History of Law and Justice.
