Massimo La Torre is Professor of philosophy of law at the University of Catanzaro, Italy, and Visiting Professor of European law at the University of Tallinn, Estonia. He got a Doctorate of Laws at the European University Institute of Florence having previously studied law and political science at the University of Messina and at the School of Advanced International Studies of Johns Hopkins University, Bologna Center. He has practiced as a barrister and acted as secretary at the State Archives in Bologna. He has hold professorial positions at the University of Bologna, at the European University Institute of Florence, at the University of Hull, at the University of Murcia, and at the Carlos III University of Madrid. He has been granted the Alexander von Humboldt Research Award. Among his publications there are: Law as Institution (Springer, Berlin 2102), Legalizzare la tortura? Ascesa e declino dello Stato di diritto (Il Mulino, Bologna 2013), Contra la tradición. Perspectivas sobre la naturaleza del Derecho (Universidad del Externado, Bogotá 2016), Nostra legge è la libertà. Anarchismo dei Moderni (DeriveApprodi, Roma 2017). A latest book of his is: Il diritto contro se stesso (Olschki, 2020)